HARRISBURG LETTER.

Five Hundred Bills Left in the Hands of the Governor.

Special Correspondence to THE GAZETTE.

HARRISBURG, April 18.—The session of the Pennsylvania legislature closed at noon on last Thursday leaving with Governor Pennypacker 500 bills to be disposed of during the next thirty days.

Outside of the adoption of reports of conference committees on appropriation bills there was very little business. Both houses closed up their work at 3 o'clock Thursday morning and then adjourned until 11 o'clock, when the usual closing scenes were enacted.

Senators Catlin and Dewart were appointed a committee to tell him that the shutters had been put up, the doors locked and everything was ready to go home.

For the first time, probably, in the history of the Pennsylvania legislature, the general appropriation bill passed both branches without having been considered by a conference committee. The bill was slightly amended by the senate, was taken up by the house at 10 o'clock Wednesday night for conference in these amendments.

Governor Pennypacker, in commenting upon the close of the general assembly, said: "The work of the legislature during the present session, so far as it goes, is a very satisfactory one."

He has failed to my lot to say a few words on this occasion in regard to the work of the legislature, this tree, which was grown, and how the tree obtained its growth.

An elderly and bearded G. had clothed the mountains, the hills and the valleys with magnificent forests of state trees. He designated them for the use and well being of the human race. They exert a great and beneficial influence upon a climate, clouds, rain, soil and health.

But rubies may have, in a great measure, thwarted the Divine purpose, by his covetous and wasteful destruction of the forests.

In a did the poet sing: "Woodman, spare the tree!"

The woodman had indeed not the song. That man by his persistent destruction of the forests, has brought about many perilous results. There has been a perceptible change in the climate, the rainfall has diminished and the rain is not really absorbed by the earth but passes off rapidly, thereby causing sudden and damaging floods, washing away the soil on the hillsides, and making the valleys arid.

During the session of the legislature Governor Pennypacker has signed 108 bills and vetoed 30.

Governor Pennypacker has accepted an invitation to deliver the oration of the Forest and the Mountains at the State House on the second Sunday of June.

In many ways the session of the Pennsylvania legislature which just closed has been the most remarkable held in a great many years. Outside of legislation affecting the two great cities of the state, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, the work of the session has been largely negative in character.

The "R-rpers", three in number, were inspired by the Republican leaders of Philadelphia.

The list of bills which were either defeated or left to die in committee contains some of the most important measures presented during the session. Under criticism from the leaders all "pencil" bills which figured in former years were held up and not allowed to see the light after they were introduced.

Defeated but far from subdued the Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League maintains that it is today stronger than ever and is prepared to carry its fight into the county primaries throughout the state next year.

One of the most important measures of the session was the bill to create a commission of public utility, which was defeated by a vote of 10 to 9.

VALLEY FORGE MAPLE

Planted by the Loyal Temperance Legion

ON THE PUBLIC SQUARE

Arbor Day Appropriately Observed—Planting Addressed Made—School Children Took Part

A most impressive Arbor Day program was conducted by the Loyal Temperance Legion on Friday afternoon on the public square, at which time the Legion planted a Valley Forge maple tree the donation of Senator Philander C. Knox.

At the suggestion of our progressive public school principal, Prof. D. C. Stunkard, shortly before the appointed hour—3:30 o'clock—a procession of the Loyal Legion under direction of their superintendents, Miss Annie E. Schell and Mrs. L. D. Stunkard, and all school grades was formed in the school grounds headed by "Old Glory" and the newly organized drum corps which moved in grand march to the square where a large body of citizens awaited their coming with enthusiastic applause.

After the hearty singing of America followed by the Legion salute and Arbor Day rally cry, Calton H. Kerkman, president of the Loyal Temperance Legion, in a mainly well spoken part as follows:

It has fallen to my lot to say a few words on this occasion in regard to the work of the legislature, this tree, which was grown, and how the tree obtained its growth.

An elderly and bearded G. had clothed the mountains, the hills and the valleys with magnificent forests of state trees. He designated them for the use and well being of the human race. They exert a great and beneficial influence upon a climate, clouds, rain, soil and health.

Letter to Frank Brightbill.

Bedford, Pa.

Dear Sir: Dyke is worth $4 or $5 a gallon, put-on; how much is another paint worth?

Depends on how many gallons you've got to put-on, to be equal to one of Dyke.

Mr. J. J. Hall, Sheffield, Pa., painted two houses one coat, five years ago, lead-and-oil, took 40 gallons.

Last summer bought 10 gallons Dyke for two houses; had 10 gallons left.

Mr. N. Avery, Delhi, N. Y., owns two houses exactly alike; painted one with Dyke, took 6 gallons. The other with some other; took 11 gallons.

What'd you give for those 6 paints? Put in mind, you've got to pay for the painting.

Yours truly

Fresh Groceries

Arriving almost daily—We call your attention to two items this week:

PRUNES—Fancy, Santa Clara Valley, California—the finest prunes grown. We have an over supply of this elegant fruit on hand and have cut prices this week.

The 10c grade is now 7c a lb.
The 7c grade is now 5c a lb.

SWIFT'S PREMIUM HAM—These are unlike the common run of hams sold in the stores in this vicinity. They are a higher grade, mild and juicy—English Cure. If you use this grade of meat once you will use no other afterward. Swift's "Premium" Hams cost only a trifle more than common hams—but there is a whole lot of satisfaction when you eat them.

They weigh 9 to 12 lbs. and we are selling them at 12 1/2c a lb.
